Didion Hosts Spring Growers Meeting

Columbus, Wisconsin – Didion Milling, Inc. (Didion) hosted another successful and informative Ag economics meeting for nearly 100 area grain farmers on Thursday, March 17th.

Badgerland Financial was on hand to discuss the historical, current and future outlook on land values. Pioneer Market Economics Group provided an overall Ag economic outlook with an evaluation of the trends affecting the industry. Pioneer also provided valuable insight on how our area grain farmers could apply this knowledge in their businesses. Roach Ag Marketing provided information on China's market conditions and provided tips on how farmers could market their own grain product.

Didion has been hosting Growers meetings semi-annually since 2006. Fall meetings typically occur in September before the heart of Harvest season begins. Didion Grain Manager, Garry Gard has been hosting this event for nearly nine years and says, "These Growers meetings are a way we can give back to our area farmers and provide them with the expertise from the best in the Ag business."

To be notified of future Growers Meetings or if you are interested in selling your grain, please contact Garry Gard at 920.348.5868 x *844.
